

Principles and Purposes

We, the member congregations of the Unitarian Universalist Association, covenant to affirm and promote:

- The inherent worth and dignity of every person;
- Justice, equity and compassion in human relations;
- Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth of our congregations;
- A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
- The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregation and in society at large;
- The goal of world community with peace, liberty and justice for all;
- Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

UUCLC Mission:

"To create a religious community that fosters liberal religious living through worship, study, service and fellowship in order to make a difference to our lives, our community and our world."

Are You Looking for a Religious Home?

UNITARIAN UNIVERSALISTS SAY:

"I want a religion that respects the differences between people and affirms every person as an individual."

"I want a congregation that cherishes freedom and encourages open dialogue on questions of faith, one in which it is okay to change your mind."

"I want a religious community that affirms spiritual exploration and reason as ways of finding truth."

"I want a church that values children, that welcomes them on their own terms—a church they are eager to attend."

"I want a fellowship that acts locally and thinks globally on the great issues of our time—world peace; women's rights; racial justice; homelessness; gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender rights; and protection of the environment."

What We Believe

Unitarian Universalism is a liberal religion born of the Jewish and Christian traditions. We keep our minds open to the religious questions people have struggled with in all times and places.

We believe that personal experience, conscience, and reason should be the final authorities in religion. In the end religious authority lies not in a book, person, or institution, but in ourselves. We put religious insights to the test of our hearts and minds.

We uphold the free search for truth. We will not be bound by a statement of belief. We do not ask anyone to subscribe to a creed. We say ours is a non-creedal religion. Ours is a free faith.

We believe that religious wisdom is ever changing. Human understanding of life and death, the world and its mysteries, is never final. Revelation is continuous. We celebrate unfolding truths known to teachers, prophets, and sages throughout the ages.

We affirm the worth of all women and men. We believe people should be encouraged to think for themselves. We know people differ in their opinions and lifestyles, and we believe these differences generally should be honored.

We seek to act as a moral force in the world, believing that ethical living is the supreme witness of religion. The here and now and the effects our actions will have on future generations deeply concern us. We know that justice, equity, and compassion should govern our relationships with one another, with diverse peoples, races, and nations.

We Celebrate

The Unitarian Universalist Community of Lake County (UUCLC) was founded in the Fall of 1999 by religious liberals seeking to establish a spiritual community in the beautiful mountains of Lake County, California. Worship is held every Sunday at 10:00 am. and is predominately lay-led. Speakers are brought in on a regular basis, and members, friends and children are encouraged to become active in the worship process.

The UUCLC is part of a long heritage that goes back hundreds of years to courageous people who struggled for freedom in thought and faith. Outstanding Unitarian Universalists include John Adams, Clara Barton, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Louisa May Alcott, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Susan B. Anthony, Adlai Stevenson, Eliot Richardson, and Whitney Young.

Our community is self-governing. Authority and responsibility are vested in the membership of the UUCLC. We adopt our own bylaws, elect officers, and approve budgets. Every member is encouraged to take part in community activities.

We Unite

More than one thousand congregations make up the Unitarian Universalist Association (UUA.) More information about the UUA and Unitarian Universalism can be obtained on the web at <http://www.uua.org> by visiting the UUCLC at <http://www.uuclc.org>.
